BILLS SUPPLEMENT

to The Uganda Gazette No. 2, Volume CXV, dated 14th January, 2022

Printed by UPPC, Entebbe, by Order of the Government.

Bill No. 1

Electricity (Amendment) Bill

2022

THE ELECTRICITY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 2022

MEMORANDUM

1. The principles of the Bill

The objects and principles of this Bill are to amend the Electricity Act, Cap. 145 to provide for a staggered term of office for the members of the authority; to provide for additional functions of the authority; to increase funds allocated to the Electricity Regulatory Authority from 0.3 percent to 0.7 percent of the revenue received from generated electrical energy; to empower the Minister to prescribe the procedure for transfer of generation assets to the Government; to prescribe the circumstances under which a holder of a generation licence or transmission licence may supply electricity to persons other than a bulk supplier; to provide for deterrent penalties for theft of electricity and vandalism of electrical facilities; to provide for the membership and funding of the Electricity Disputes Tribunal; and to provide for related matters.

The proposal to amend the Electricity Act, Cap. 145 is intended to remove inconsistencies in the law, introduce flexibility in its implementation and to streamline operations of the electricity sector.

2. Defects in the existing law

The Electricity Act, Cap. 145 (the "Act") was enacted in 1999 and a lot has changed in the electricity sector since then. The current law does not effectively address issues of institutional responsibilities and efficiency, enforcement of compliance, and adequate penalties for theft of electrical energy and vandalism of electrical facilities. The Act provides for funding of the Electricity Regulatory Authority of 0.3% of the money collected from sale of electricity which is not sufficient to run the activities of the authority.

In addition, the Act does not empower the Electricity Regulatory Authority to impose sanctions on licence holders for breach of the terms of the licence. This has curtailed the capacity of the authority to enforce compliance.

Further, the current law provides for a single buyer model with the licence to purchase all electricity generated in Uganda awarded to a single institution, the Uganda Electricity Transmission Company Limited, yet the transmission network does not cover the whole country. At the same time, it is not economically viable to extend the transmission network grid to some remote areas with low electricity demand. Therefore, there is need to amend the law to allow isolated power generation plants to sell electricity to distribution companies or directly to consumers for both technical and commercial expediency.

The penalties under the current law are not deterrent enough to discourage theft of electrical energy and vandalism of electrical equipment. These criminal acts have consistently increased the cost of operation and maintenance of electricity infrastructure as well as the commercial losses experienced by the electricity distribution companies.

Regarding the Electricity Disputes Tribunal, the current membership is three and all the three members must be present for the tribunal to perform its functions. The absence of any one member renders the tribunal non-functional. This has necessitated the amendment of the law to increase the membership of the tribunal to seven to enable it perform its functions efficiently.

The successor companies that were created from unbundling the Uganda Electricity Board report to the Minister responsible for finance and not the sector Minister responsible for policy guidance and overall performance of the electricity sector. This has created serious challenges in the management of the electricity sector.

3. Remedies

It has therefore become necessary to amend the Electricity Act to streamline the operations of the electricity sector. The Bill proposes to empower the Electricity Regulatory Authority to impose fines on licensees for breach of the terms of the licence before taking the drastic decision of suspending or cancelling the licence. In addition, it is proposed to increase funding the Electricity Regulatory Authority from 0.3% to 0.7% of the electricity sold to improve its performance.

The Act will also be amended to remove monopoly of the bulk supplier and provide for sale of electricity in bulk by a holder of a generation licence to a holder of a distribution licence, transmission licence or directly to a specified class or category of customers.

The Act has also been amended to provide more deterrent penalties for theft of electricity and vandalism of electrical equipment.

Further, the licensees will be required to develop dispute resolution procedures to address complaints from customers before the complaints are referred to the tribunal.

The constitution, operations and funding of the tribunal are streamlined to improve its efficiency in resolving electricity disputes.

To streamline the management of the successor companies, the Minister responsible for electricity shall be a majority shareholder of the successor companies to improve their efficiency.

Provisions of the Bill

4. Clause 1 seeks to amend section 2 by inserting immediately after the word “export” the word “and” and by repealing the words “and distribution” appearing after the word “import”.
5. Clause 2 seeks to amend section 3(1) of the principal Act on the definition of the word electric supply line by repealing the words “but does not include any telegraph or telephone line”.
6. Clause 3 seeks to amend section 7 to provide for a staggered term of service of the members of the Board for continuity of the activities of the authority at the expiry of the term of some members.
7. Clause 4 seeks to amend section 10 by substituting for the words “transmission and distribution companies” the word “licensees” in paragraph (g) and by inserting new paragraphs (qa), (qb), (qc) and (qd) to provide for additional functions of the authority.
8. Clause 5 seeks to amend section 22 by substituting for “0.3” the figure “0.7” to increase funding to the authority and to provide for an additional source of funding to the authority from income generated from services rendered. This will ensure that the authority has adequate funds to regulate the electricity industry.
9. Clause 6 seeks to amend section 32 to empower the authority to issue permits for both solicited and unsolicited electricity projects.
10. Clause 7 seeks to amend section 37 to empower the authority to classify licences taking into account the size and technology to be used or market segment to be served by the licensee.
11. Clause 8 seeks to amend section 44 to prescribe the time within which a licensee who is aggrieved by the decision of the authority may appeal to the tribunal.

12. Clause 9 seeks to amend section 46 by substituting for the word “by” the word “of”, for clarity.
13. Clause 10 seeks to amend section 50 by substituting for the words “transmission lines” the words “electric supply lines” to use a word that is defined in the Act.
14. Clause 11 seeks to amend section 51 to empower the authority by notice in the Gazette to change the minimum capacity for which a generation licence is required. This is to cater for the increased nature of activities which include generation for internal industrial and commercial uses and the need to cater for an expanding economy of Uganda.
15. Clause 12 seeks to amend section 52 to empower the Minister to prescribe the procedure for transferring to Government of the hydropower plant at the expiry of the licence.
16. Clause 13 seeks to amend section 55 by repealing paragraph (1)(g). The power to publish standardised feed in tariffs shall be exercised by the regulator, the authority, and not the systems operator.
17. Clause 14 seeks to amend section 56 to remove monopoly of the bulk supplier and to prescribe the circumstances under which a holder of a generation licence may supply electricity in bulk to a holder of a distribution licence, transmission licence or directly to a specified class or category of customers. This is due to the limited coverage of the national grid and is intended to cater for places where it is not economically viable to extend the transmission grid.

18. Clause 15 seeks to amend section 75 to incorporate all renewable energy projects including wind, biomass, peat and solar to be liable to pay royalties. At the moment, only holders of generation licences for hydropower projects are paying royalties to the district local government where the generating station is situated. The amendment also seeks to empower the authority to prescribe the maximum royalties payable by generation licensees of renewable energy projects.
19. Clause 16 seeks to amend section 81 by repealing subsection (5) because the provision is comprehensively covered under the new section 85.
20. Clause 17 seeks to substitute section 83 to provide a deterrent penalty for licensees who fail to comply with the terms of the licence.
21. Clause 18 seeks to insert new sections 83A and 83B. Section 83A provides for offences by a body corporate. Section 83B seeks to empower the authority to impose administrative fines in case of breach of the terms of the licence by the licensee.
22. Clause 19 seeks to substitute section 85 to provide for deterrent punishment for vandalism of electrical facilities.
23. Clause 20 seeks to amend section 86 to provide for deterrent punishment for theft of electrical energy.
24. Clause 21 seeks to amend section 89 to provide for deterrent punishment for an offence under the Act for which no penalty is expressly provided.
25. Clause 22 seeks to amend section 93 to prescribe the number of members of the Electricity Disputes Tribunal including the chairperson, a vice chairperson and five other members.

26. Clause 23 seeks to amend section 101 to provide for the procedure and grounds of removing members of the tribunal from office.
27. Clause 24 seeks to amend section 104 to empower the vice chairperson to perform the functions of the chairperson where the latter is unable to discharge his or her functions.
28. Clause 25 seeks to amend section 105 to provide for the constitution of the tribunal for exercise of its powers, the constitution of panels, quorum for the exercise of the powers of the tribunal or panel and transfer of a case from one panel to another.
29. Clause 26 seeks to introduce new sections 108A, 108B, 108C, 108D and 108E to provide for the administration of the funds of the tribunal including the power of the tribunal to open and operate bank accounts, to prepare estimates, keep proper books of accounts of the tribunal that will be subject to audit by the Auditor General.
30. Clause 27 seeks to amend section 111 to ensure that a decision of the tribunal is binding if it is supported by the majority of the members.
31. Clause 28 seeks to amend section 112(3) to clarify that the staff of the tribunal shall be appointed by the tribunal.
32. Clause 29 seeks to introduce new section 112A to provide for immunity of any member of the tribunal against any action, suit or prosecution or any other proceeding.

This is a consequential amendment resulting from the varying of the shareholding of the successor companies in new section 125A.
